HOW MED AUDIOCOLOR WILL HELP YOUR PATIENTS

Colors and sounds permeate our lives. This biofeedback device processes the patient's thoughts through a visual and audio form, additionally, the patient's brain waves are interpreted in real-time as sounds and colors which are projected back to the patient via the device display - providing the beneficial results of self-generated supplemental therapy.

This therapy produces a healing response in patients, regulating and improving brain function. It helps balance the autonomic nervous system, aids in the regulation of the circulatory system, hormonal imbalances and eases tension associated with psychological stress.

What you think, you see on screen!

For most of the similar devices available in the market today, the patients have to react to a given stimulation that is "pre-programmed". Whereas with Med Audiocolor, the patient is the actor and self-generates the therapeutic activity in the brain! Making Med Audiocolor the only real-time neuro-feedback and audio color therapy available in the market that is clinically researched and validated.

A SCIENTIFICALLY RESEARCHED AND VALIDATED MODALITY:

Stimulates and activates both parts of the brain!

The patient experiences four levels of training: concentration, relaxation, imagination, and meditation. The idea is to gain the highest level of tranquility, i.e., meditation, comprising the other three prior stages.

Enhances cognitive performance

The brain is trained to transform challenging situations and memories with ease, thereby removing stress and improving one's concentration. The result is shown in 3D animations with changing colors and acoustic perceptions.

Get real-time neurofeedback in a transparent way

The Med Audiocolor device is the only device for neurofeedback application in real-time. It conducts an EEG analysis while the data is simultaneously shown in therapy modulation to the patient during the session itself. This data is displayed via audio and video transmission signals.

Special: A mobile app-based audio color therapy for offering 'at home' therapies for clients is also available to selected partners! This can also be integrated with the EEG data - making it the most personalized solution in the market!

HOW MED AUDIOCOLOR ELEVATE YOUR BUSINESS

50 different training programs that improve practice profitability!

The device can be used anywhere!

The application comes with a wireless headset and is compatible with many machines and devices, making it completely mobile. This makes it possible to relax even at work!

Smooth and hassle-free navigation

The software is designed with a user-friendly interface and has a step-by-step walkthrough to help technicians operate the device.

Easy customization

The device timing can be customized, and the application duration can be set anywhere between 1 minute to 120 minutes. It doesn't have a preset timing and can be terminated at any moment. The brain area that needs to be targeted at any given point can be controlled based on the various therapy modulations.

Store individual treatment programs for each client in one device!

Customized individual training programs can be created based on the data collected. The device records beta-, alpha-, theta-, delta-, and gamma- waves. The single frequencies are displayed for further analysis, and the niveau of the therapy is memorized to be loaded again for future application.

Over 90% of patients report relief from symptoms after the first session!
